

Diversity of opinion is essential to the functioning of a democracy. Therefore, I strenuously object to ANY changes in ownership rules that will result in the concentration of American media in fewer hands.